SYNOPSIS

Aaron Berg, New York’s Underground King of Comedy, opens up the show by introducing the guest comedians and celebrity to the audience. He is the heart and soul of the program and drives the conversation among the guest comics and celebrity.

In each episode, he will focus on four-to-five topics. Meanwhile the dealer manages the poker game in the background.

The comedians, host and celebrity, are sharp-witted and whip-smart. They discuss topics ranging from the serious to the most hilarious: From personal stories and political commentary to entertainment and the latest pop culture news.

While the poker game occurs, multiple cameras capture not only reactions from guest comedians, host and celebrity, but also from the crew creating a hellacious atmosphere.

HALF-HOUR PROGRAM INCLUDES

Interspersed throughout the program if shown on a network are outtakes of stand up comedy. Each set is based on the segment subject matter and performed by one of the guest comedians.
